Introduction:

For most of us, today's lifestyle emphasizes mental tensions, Worries and seemingly insoluble problems at many levels, such as personal interrelationships, economics and even geopolitical threats of war and destruction. At the same time the amount of sedentary or semi – sedentary work is increasing due to increase in technology and labour saving devices. This has led to a situation in which mental and physical ill health is increasing. Without an antidote there seems to be a little hope.

Under conditions of extreme stress people may regress and show their emotions in a way that is not characteristic of their everyday self. Emotional immaturity as a personality trait is associated with a consistent tendency of a person to show emotions in a way that is inappropriate for their age.

Emotional Maturity:

Emotional Maturity means, in essence, controlling our emotions rather than allowing our emotions to control us.

Psychological Well – Being :

Absence of mental disorders.

The symptoms of emotional immaturity include temper tantrums, low frustration tolerance, oversensitivity, inability to take criticism, unreasonable jealousy, unwillingness to forgive, inappropriate dependence, e. g. relying on someone when it is preferable to be self-reliant, indecisive, demanding immediate attention or gratification and being unable to wait for anything, selfishness, low self-esteem and insensitivity to the feelings of others.

Psychological ill-being is related to discontentment, dissatisfaction, frustration with other psychological problems.

The life, to such persons, may seem unhappy, insecure and without meaning and they may experience negative affect and psychological conflict.

Physical and mental cleansing and strengthening is one of yoga's most important achievements.

Asanas are special patterns of postures that stabilize the mind and the body through static stretching. Asanas also relax muscular tensions, something that is essential for people today who find this most difficult. In many cases people consider themselves to be relaxed, yet the muscles remain in a state of tension. Asanas remove these tensions and give the practitioner a real muscular relaxation. By developing control of the body through asana, the mind is controlled, and mental tensions are quickly eliminated.

'Surya Namaskara' is an integral part of the yogic approach to these problems and can be easily integrated into our daily lives as it requires only five to fifteen minutes of daily practice to obtain beneficial results. Surya Namaskara is a series of twelve physical postures or asanas. These alternating backward and forward bending asanas flex and strength the spinal column and limbs through their maximum range.

Surya Namaskara is therefore ideal for even the most active individuals, who have to spend a lot of mental energy, such as the busy businesspersons, the parents, the students or the scientists. Regular practice of sun salutation regulates pingala nadi (right nostril), whether it is underactive or overactive, thus leading to a balanced energy system at both the mental and physical levels.

Surya Namaskara also influences the pineal gland and the hypothalamus, helping to prevent pineal degeneration and calcification. Practice of surya namaskara influences the entire endocrine system and increases will power. Surya Namaskara regulates the breathing pattern changes, becoming short or rapid or almost ceasing completely, when any kind of sensation or physiological reaction is experienced.

Through this practice our breathing pattern can develop a habitual steadiness. The rhythmic breathing sequence within Surya Namaskara gradually increases one's capacity for life. It is a holistic exercise that provides physical health benefits, but also mental or emotional as well as spiritual benefits.

Methodology:

A sample of 30 students of PSGR Krishnammal College for Women, Coimbatore – Tamilnadu was taken for the administration of Surya Namaskara for 60 days. The age of the subjects ranged from 18 – 24 years. The sampling technique used was 'Accidental sampling'. In the present study, the design used is 'pre-post' Research Design. Tools used for Emotional Maturity Scale (EMS; Dr. Yashvir Singh and Dr. Mahesh Bhargava, 1973), PGI General Well Being Measure (PGI GWBM; Dr. S. K. Verma and Dr. Amita Verma, 1989) and Manuals of the Emotional Maturity Scale and PGI General Well Being Measure, and the practitioners did the Surya Namaskara for 4 – 8 rounds according to their capacity

Review of the Literature:

All these works are derived from ancient yogic texts such as:
Srimad Bhagavat Gita
Yogic Literature

Discussion & Conclusion:

Surya Namaskara or Sun Salutation practice was found to be effective on the levels of Emotional Maturity and Psychological Well – Being. The null hypotheses were rejected at 0.01 level of confidence. For Emotional Maturity the Value of t is 3.08, and for Psychological Well – Being the value of t is 2.99. Both values are greater than the value at 0.01 level, thus proving that Yoga balances, harmonizes, and brings integration between physical and mental health.

Yoga is a definite means of physical, mental, emotional and spiritual development, as it improves, strengthens and develops both the physical and mental personality. Everybody wants a fit and efficient body and mind. Remember that the mind and body act and react on each other. Mental ailments cause physical ailments and vice versa.

When any type of asana is done, the body becomes flexible and the vital organs function in proper working order. With the help of asanas, memory, concentration, learning power, curiosity to learn and the way of thinking are improved and a balance between our instinctive, emotional and intellectual natures is established. Once a balance is found in these three different natures, then transmission from the consciousness into the body will be most harmonious, balanced and integrated.

Yoga can improve physical and mental health, and promotes well – being, and yogic practices can be used as psycho physiologic stimuli to increase endogenous secretion of melatonin, which, in turn, might be responsible for improved sense of well – being.

Yoga as mind – body intervention helps to modify emotions. Emotions plays very big role in determining the quality of life. Emotional Maturity implies controlling the emotions more willingly than letting them instruct the quality of life. Some dimensions of emotional maturity are level of self – confidence. Self-Worth, Self – Esteem, ability to express and feel love towards self, others and the environment, social adjustment etc.

psychological Well – Being is not just a moderator variable to our performance, rather it makes life meaningful and purposeful.

Surya Namaskara is useful in achieving concentration. It reduces tension built- up and promotes relaxation of the whole body. Surya Namaskara significantly improves both the physical and cognitive functioning areas. It can also control our moods – drive away depression through fast rounds or cool down hyperactivity with slow rounds.

Developing the practice of surya namaskara can have repercussions on our whole lifestyle and attitude to life. The exploration of ourselves the we initiate in our daily practice expands in concentric circles out into our daily activity, movement, interaction with people and things, and thus helps to change our lives in a positive and a creative way.

Results

Surya Namaskara regulates the breathing process during anxiety, anger.

It regulates concentration and reduces tension built – up and promotes relaxation of the whole body.

Surya Namaskara balances energy system at both the mental and physical levels.

Conclusions

Yoga being a Holistic Practice can make a miraculous change in managing the Psychological Well – Being and Emotional maturity.
